

Tax Disc Changes

Changes to Vehicle Taxing mean drivers will no longer be required to display their tax disc.

After 93 years, the vehicle tax disc is due to be scrapped in October, to be replaced by an electronic database. This means cars will no longer need to carry a tax disc holder, removing vital branding and advertising space.

As well as the existing range of window stickers and no smoking signs, vLease have created a new range of products to replace the tax disc holder. These can carry driver information, contact numbers and any other details, all branded to your requirements.
